CELEBRATING SUNDAY *Gospel Reading: John 14:15-21

6th Sunday of Easter

Jesus proposes something revolutionary to the disciples: that God will come and inhabit them, that their own hearts will become temples of the Holy Spirit. If we surrender ourselves to God, he will come and live in us and we in him. We will be as close as a heartbeat. God offers us a relationship of love, the love that truly desires the good of the other. And his love bears fruit as it teaches us to see with God's eyes, to follow not the ways of the world but the Way of Love.

At the end of Mass: What words or actions express love? How do you know you are loved? How do we show our love to one another at home? How can we be better about showing one another our love—to one another, to those outside our family, and to God?
